State representatives spar on MESD issues

By Dave Gosnell
Staff writer

GRANITE CITY — Several bills introduced in the Illinois legislature that would change the makeup of the Metro East Sanitary District are being opposed by state Rep. Sam Wolf, D-Glendale City.

State Rep. Wyvette Younge, D-East St. Louis, has introduced four pieces of legislation which would change the system for appointing the MESD Board of Commissioners. Younge would require the director of the MESD to be a licensed engineer, would empower a House of Representatives committee to investigate sanitary district actions during recent flooding and would ask the state for $1.8 million to replace the MESD pumping station in East St. Louis.

AN MESD FLOODGATE at the station malfunctioned Oct. 4, displacing thousands of East St. Louisans and causing millions of dollars worth of damage to the walls and foundation of the city's water tower.

YOUNGE, East St. Louis Mayor Carl Officer and others in East St. Louis have criticized MESD director Shang Greathouse for failing to act on previous reports that the pump station needs repair and for his handling of the flood.

East St. Louis citizen groups have called for Greathouse's resignation.

In a prepared statement, Younge said her bills were aimed at reforming the MESD and making the MESD Board of Commissioners more responsive to St. Clair County residents.

THESE REFORMS are long overdue. St. Clair County deserves a fair and professional sanitary district and these four bills will go a long way in providing that," Younge said.

But, Wolf is against three out of the four bills being pushed by Younge.

Wolf said he was against requiring the MESD director to be a licensed engineer.

He and Younge will probably disagree with that. The MESD has under contract engineering services. The question I have in my mind is, "Do you need an engineer or a fully qualified administrator?" You don't need both.

Sewer repair funding topic of special meeting

By Bill Bagby
Staff writer

GRANITE CITY — Financing the rehabilitation of the Nameoki area sanitary sewer system will be the topic of a special meeting of the City Council at 7 p.m. Tuesday, Dec. 9.

The meeting will be held in the second floor room of the City Hall, 2000 Edison Ave.

THE ALDERMEN are likely to discuss plans on how to finance the rehabilitation project, estimated to cost $10.5 million.

A study of the sewers, prepared by the engineering firm of Horner & Shifrin Inc. of St. Louis, gave several sources of funding for the project. They are through the general fund, sewer charges, general obligation bonds, sewer revenue bonds or governmental grants.

MAYOR VON DEE CRUSE said

he expects no final decision to be made at the meeting on funding the project. Cruse said several meetings may have to be held before a decision is made.

The study recommended the city implement a plan to reconstruct collapsed sewers and other badly deteriorated sewers or, in some cases, raise the sewer above the groundwater table.

Other sewers in need of rehabilitation should be lined, using In-situform, slip lining or grouting, the report said.

THE GROUNDWATER table in the Nameoki area of Granite City has caused numerous sewer breaks since 1960, the report said. The table is at a higher elevation than when the sewers were installed in 1954-55.

Since June 1981, 48 sewer breaks were reported, with 30 being repaired, the study said.

The study defines approximately

Bruce tests completed

EDWARDSVILLE — Competency tests for accused double-murderer Jack Gordon Bruce were completed last week.

Madison County Associate Judge Charles Romani Jr. should receive the results on Bruce by mid-week. Edwardsville psychologist Dr. Lawrence Taliana reported Monday.

Taliana said he could not release the results of the examination, but a source close to Bruce said Bruce was told he'd be declared competent to stand trial.

"It told Jack essentially what I was going to say," Taliana said.

An order was signed by Romani on Oct. 27 directing that Bruce be examined. Romani's order was based on a request from John Rekowski, Madison County public defender.

Rekowski was appointed by Romani as Bruce's counsel. Bruce fired his first attorney, James Gorrie of Belleville.

Bruce's trial was scheduled to start July 21 but has been delayed several times.

Bruce was charged May 8 with the murders of Granite City realtor Carl Hoffman and his wife, Susan Hoffman, on April 30 at their home at 1547 Rodger Ave.

Chouteau children will eat breakfast with Santa Claus

By Norma Mendoza
Correspondent

CHOUTEAU — The Township's annual children's Christmas party and breakfast with Santa will be held in the Chouteau Township Hall on Dec. 13 from 9 till 11:30 a.m.

There will be opportunities for parents to photograph their children with Santa, games and "Picnic Park" will entertain and there will be treats for all.

It was announced that Town Clerk

Pat Foley was re-elected to the office of third vice president of the Clerks' Division of the Township Officials of Illinois at the annual conference held in Springfield in November.

The town board approved a contract with Fire Safety Inc. of Wood River for inspection and maintenance of all the township's fire extinguishers every six months for $60 per year.

Reviews and previews

Tree of Lights goal announced

The Salvation Army's annual Tree of Lights drive in the Quad-City Area has set a record $63,000 goal this holiday season. The money is used to help needy families during the Christmas season. Volunteers from the area soon will be ringing bells at many public locations, appealing for donations. Turn to page 5A for more information about the drive and how to apply for Christmas aid.

Venice alderman resigns

Venice 1st Ward Alderman Philip Daniels resigned last week from the Venice City Council. Daniels said he resigned because he is moving to Edwardsville. He was appointed to the council in 1978 and was elected to his first term in 1979. He also served as temporary mayor of Venice in 1979 when former mayor William Ebersold resigned. Mayor Tyrone Echols is expected to appoint Daniels' replacement at a future council meeting.

Fire detectors for sale

The Granite City Fire Department has smoke detectors for sale. A limited number of the detectors are available and can be purchased for $6 each at the main fire station, 2300 Madison Ave. Firefighters' Local 253 helped purchase the low-cost detectors.

50 years ago

Thurs., Dec. 3, 1936

A group of 160 taxpayers met at the City Hall Tuesday in protest of the Park Board's proposed $25,000 bond issue to buy more land. After a vote to oppose the bond issue, the group outlined a plan to abolish the board as a separate taxing unit.

Tell it like it is

Q: What do you like about the holidays?

Stacy Roseman

"What do I like about the holidays? Because it seems to be the time of the year where everyone lays aside all differences. They walk around with twinkles in their eyes and love in their hearts and they give gifts from their hearts unselfishly."

—Granite City

Charlotte Crider

"I don't like anything about them. As far as I'm concerned, it's 'bah, humbug! I don't like any holiday. It's just not the same anymore."

—Granite City

NEXT WEEK: Should the law be changed to require that the director of the Metro East Sanitary District be a professional engineer?

To record your answer, phone 452-0222 between 5:30 p.m. and 8 a.m. daily. Leave your name, hometown and phone number for verification purposes.

Quote of the week

"These people could be good citizens and good neighbors. They are not dangerous," John Johnson, director of Community Counseling Services, told Venice councilmen about a housing program for people being treated for emotional problems.

Tip of the hat

Avery Schermer

Madison businessman Avery Schermer is recognized this week for agreeing to serve as the chairman for the Salvation Army's Tree of Lights charity drive this year. A record goal of $63,000 has been set to help needy families at Christmas. He is owner-operator of Schermer Super Liquors, a new establishment in Madison. A kickoff luncheon for the drive was held last week at the Salvation Army Corps Center in Granite City.

Invoke past to prevent future crimes

By Paul Harvey

This year's Nobel Peace Prize went to Elie Wiesel. This gentle Jewish survivor of the Holocaust has written 50 books on that subject—lest we forget.

He was most grateful for the recognition, but he was grateful for the prize, but because it would increase his forum for keeping humankind reminded how unkind it can be. "I have devoted my life," says Elie Wiesel, "to a certain cause, the cause of memory, the cause of remembrance. Now I feel that I will have a better opportunity to say the same words for a larger audience."

Elie Wiesel and others are not going to let us forget the Holocaust.

They know that the world wears of such painful reminders. Better, some say, to put Hitler and the death camps and the ghastly slaughter behind us.

But to forget the lessons of history could doom others to a repetition of that history. It is for them—painful as it may be for us—that Auschwitz and Buchenwald and Dachau must not be forgotten.

Elie Wiesel says, his is a "campaign against apathy, we must invoke the past to prevent future crimes against humanity."

It is not the same thing—but for the same reason—that some Americans want to be sure we do not forget the holocaust.

This is the first time in our nation's 200 years that young Americans have been "free."

And a major reason that our nation has not been engaged militarily in these recent decades is because we got burned so badly in Korea and Vietnam.

Again, there is no way to compare the agony of a Holocaust that exterminated six million Jews and a Vietnam police action which cost 58,000 lives.

Yet, we must make a conscious and continuing effort "never to forget either."

We must never forget that we sent our best young men with less than our best weapons to fight a pulled-punches war in Korea where the objective was a stalemate.

We must never forget that we sent some of the best young men to the other side of the world— to Vietnam—presumably to stop the advance of Communism. Though those same young men would be thrown into jail if they tried to do anything about the advance of Communism 90 miles from Florida.

These wars which we were afraid to win and ashamed to lose must be remembered. Only the dread of another Holocaust has a chance to prevent it.

In the Army, it's safety second

Weekly Special

Jack Anderson
& Joseph Spear
United Features

Fort Leavenworth, Kan., found that 22 percent "infrequently or never" thought about accident safety; 15 percent said their superior officers gave safety "little or no importance"; 17 percent said their superiors often interfered with realistic training.

In another survey, one out of three officers and enlisted men scoffed at the idea of safety training, and 20 percent of the men and half agreed with the view that it is "inevitable that accidents will occur in their unit."

The inspector general's report concluded that both the number and training of Army safety personnel are inadequate.

The report, titled "Total Army Safety," is stamped on each page: "FOR OFFICIAL USE ONLY." This document, as it is now, is being withheld from the public by the Defense Department. It is EMBEDDED IN MANDATORY DISCLOSURE."

In other words, the Army doesn't want the public to know why the brass has shirked off safety concerns.

One Army source obtained a copy of the revealing document. Here are some of its disturbing findings:

CASE STUDY CONSULTANTS: American gambling experts from Las Vegas have been advising Philippine President Corazon Aquino on how to rejuvenate her country's once vibrant, and corrupt, casino system.

New bookkeeping practices have been instituted, which have been improved and employees have been instructed in the techniques of honest gambling operations. President Aquino has directed 10 percent of the casino profits will go to the poor. This will be a drastic departure from the practices of the past, when cronies of departed dictator Ferdinand Marcos skimmed the profits for private gain.

Army commanders rarely accept responsibility for their failure to stress safety precautions, blaming instead the soldiers directly involved in the accidents. Even on some bases where safety is a high priority, it is not included on the base commander's job evaluation.

—A survey of officer candidates at the Soviets in acronymic designations? Put another way, there is a definite and appalling "Acronym Gap." There are more than 100 LANTERNs and MIRVs than we do. The reason for this frightening situation is simple: The English alphabet, with a measly 26 letters, can produce far fewer combinations than the Russian alphabet, which has 48 letters. In the four-letter combination category alone, for example, we can produce only 456,976 to their 1,304,916. To combat this secrecy, our brass uses specially created nonsense words. We're betting on the Pentagon to win this race.

SPEAKING OF NONSENSE: It is illegal to monitor certain licensed radio signals. But some companies, such as car makers, must monitor and test electromagnetic transmissions from other vehicles to make sure they don't interfere with the licensed signals. They could therefore willingly break the law without wanting to. To address this situation, Congress has proposed a bill to change this definition: "An 'intentional' state of mind means that one's state of mind is intentional as to one's conduct, or the result of one's conduct if such conduct or result is one's conscious objective." We just thought you'd like to know that.

we're on your side

Has it been that long?

Time is not always an enemy. As it passes it brings with it experiences that provide the memories we cherish. Unfortunately, it also brings signs of age that can make us feel old beyond our years.

There's nothing wrong with wanting to look as good as you feel. Yet, many people hesitate to consider cosmetic surgery—thinking it's too expensive, too frivolous, or that it's only available far away from home.

At Anderson Hospital, we're on your side with board-certified plastic surgeons who regularly perform a wide range of cosmetic and reconstructive procedures. And, we have the outstanding facilities and the caring professional staff that these surgeons need.

If you think time is taking too great a toll on your appearance, consult your physician about the opportunities offered by cosmetic surgery at Anderson Hospital.

Tree goal $63,000

By Valerie Evenden
Staff writer

GRANITE CITY — A record $63,000 goal to finance the Salvation Army's 1986 Tree of Lights program was announced by Avery Schermer, campaign chairman, at the Nov. 25 kickoff luncheon.

Mid-City Area residents applying for Christmas food baskets lined up outside the Salvation Army Corps Center, 3007 E. 23rd St., in the early morning hours of Nov. 24, the first day applications were accepted.

MORE THAN 300 applications were taken on that first day, Maxine Ritter, corps center manager, reported.

A total of 587 people, representing hundreds of families, had applied for Christmas food baskets and related aid before Thanksgiving Day.

Last year, 3,056 people, including 1,636 children, were helped through the Tree of Lights program; 988 baskets and 3,215 toys were distributed. The $30,000 campaign goal was surpassed.

"SHARE YOUR JOY. Share Your Love, Share Your Christmas" was the banner greeting the 100 attending the kickoff luncheon.

With the help of the entire community, we need to do what is being done today," said Salvation Army Major Herbert Lodge, general secretary at the Salvation Army Midland Division headquarters in St. Louis.

He mainly recognized the Army's traditional role, which is most visible during the Christmas season, but described the help provided in response to the recent floods in the Metro East Area.

"WE ARE SLEEPING about 800 people each night in the St. Louis area," the officer said.

Salvation Army Capt. Curtiss Harkay, head of the building officer, was noticeably absent from the Nov. 25 luncheon, which launched the annual pre-holiday appeal. His reason for missing the program was entirely justified.

Capt. Harkay and his wife, the former Gena Zarfas, became the parents of their first child, a son, who was born Nov. 23 at St. Elizabeth Medical Center.

THE INFANT, who has been named Justin Paul, weighed 11 pounds, 1 ounce.

Applications for Christmas aid will be accepted this week, Monday, Dec. 1, through Friday, Dec. 5, at the Corps Center, 3007 E. 23rd St., between the hours of 9 a.m. and noon and 1 and 4 p.m.

Council approves one-day parking on Maryville Road

By Bill Bagby
Staff writer

GRANITE CITY — Parking was again allowed on a section of Maryville Road for one day, though a city ordinance prohibits it.

The Granite City Council unanimously voted Tuesday night to allow on-the-street parking for Thanksgiving Day at or near 2717 Maryville Road.

THE REQUEST came from William and Dixie Kalips, who, in a letter to the aldermen, said they wanted to park on the street due to the number of guests visiting their home for the holiday.

"We currently have space in the driveway for four vehicles," the Kalips said in the letter. "It is anticipated there will not be more than two vehicles at any one time that will need to park on the street."

Granite City police said no traffic problems were caused by the on-street parking.

County gives up trail

The Madison County Board last week released its rights to the Madison County Nature Trail, enabling Norfolk and Southern to turn the trail over to the Madison County Nature Trail Volunteers.

The county had rights to the trail until 1988, but sought to give up those rights because of a fear of liability lawsuits if the land remained in use as a trail.

The trail, which runs from Pontiac Beach to Edwardsville, is a favorite for bicyclists and hikers, but sections of it have fallen into disrepair, including a bridge.

The railroad owns the easement on which the trail is located.

The Trail Volunteers are hiking the trail, including those who have taken over some of the maintenance of the trail and fought for its survival.

First Bank names 2 new officers

At the Nov. 18 Board of Directors meeting, First Granite City National Bank announced the promotion of Margie Tarasovich to the position of real estate loan officer, and the appointment of Bettie Green as assistant cashier.

Tarasovich, in her 13-year career at First Bank, has served in the consumer services, accounting, new accounts and auditing departments, prior to assuming duties as the real estate loan department secretary in 1982.

In 1984, she began to assume lending responsibilities, and in her new position will be involved in all phases of real estate lending. Margie, her husband, Rich, and children, Missy and Mike, reside in Granite City.

Granite City had the bank on Nov. 10, after having served the last three and a half years as loan officer and branch manager of the Great Southern Savings and Loan Association in Gainesville, Mo.

Petitions and letters oppose moving court

As a petition drive gets under way, other efforts to keep all existing federal court operations in Alton have started until Congress resumes in January.

U.S. District Court officials have announced they intend to move Judge William L. Beatty and his staff from Alton to the new federal courthouse, which is being built in East St. Louis. The court's branch office in Alton would also be consolidated with the main office in East St. Louis.

The petition drive began last week under the direction of the East End Improvement Association. Other groups involved include Downriver Alton Inc. and the Greater Alton Twin Rivers Growth Association, have endorsed the effort and are helping to circulate the petitions.

But attorney William Haine of Alton, who is serving as the local committee of the Alton-Wood River Bar Association, said his efforts "are still in the congressional investigation stage."

Haine said he has been in contact with staff members for area constituents several times, but little is likely to be accomplished during the legislative recess.

That assessment was backed up by Rep. Richard Durbin, D-Springfield, and Bob Samples, staff assistant to Rep. Melvin Price, D-East St. Louis.

"I'm trying to keep the courthouse in Alton and I'm going to try my best to keep it from moving," said from his Springfield office this week.

"Congress is not in session now, so there's not going to be much progress for a while yet."

Samples said the issue is "not urgent" for Price, since the federal court's addition in East St. Louis will not be completed for at least another year.

"The House isn't even in session and the key members aren't even there," Samples said. "But I'm sure the letter (from Mayor Bert Williams) explaining the need to allow the move to occur has been forwarded to Peter Rodino (chairman of the House Judiciary Committee) and to Chicago (the Seventh Circuit Judicial Council)."

Sen. Paul Simon of Makanda, Illinois, sent a letter to Godfrey Township Supervisor Dwight Wadsworth, explaining there are many misunderstandings about the situation. For one, he said, the Federal Building at 501 Beatty St. is not closing, and although Beatty will be based in East St. Louis, cases will still be heard in Alton and the court will not completely close.

Simon said the final decision on what changes are made rests with the Judicial Council of the Seventh Circuit. Collins T. Fitzpatrick, of the council, agreed that "a federal judge will come to Alton and hear cases."

Haine said that is his goal as well.

"There are shifts and some changes being made in the judiciary, but other offices in the courthouse now will remain there and the courthouse will remain open."

The Federal Building's other principal tenants are the Social Security Administration, the Internal Revenue Service and the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

Burke Haine said the Judicial Council's stand suggests the ultimate objective is to close the entire building. Now, that they're overbuilding a building in East St. Louis, they are going to have to justify it by filling it up.

"To me, the bureaucratic reasons for making the move do not outweigh the burdens that will be put on the citizens."

"We want to be accessible to a district judge. We want a full-time court that is fully accessible to the citizens of this area."

The man in the middle of the controversy, Beatty, is playing it low-key. "My personal (differences) should not influence the thing," said Beatty, who became a federal judge in 1979 and has been based in Alton since.

"The decision should be based on what is best for the people of the district. My position is that the public should be served."

Haine said that is his goal as well.

"It's important for the image of the community to keep the venue of a federal judge here," he said. "And East St. Louis wouldn't gain that much. Jurors won't serve there and attorneys are going to stay in St. Louis."

Despite the local objections, the fate of the Alton court ultimately lies with federal officials, and local leaders realize it may be some time before a final decision is reached. In the meantime, they vow to continue to fight.

"Some comedian once said, 'The opera ain't over until the fat lady sings,'" Haine said. "Well, it may be months before it's over and the fat lady here is the United States Congress."

Tavern robbed, youth arrested

Kenneth Garrett, 19, of 2007 Fourth St., was arrested at 7:18 p.m. Nov. 25, at his home and charged with armed robbery. He was later transferred to the Madison County Jail.

Madison Police questioned four other youths and Garrett in connection with an armed robbery at Konrad's Tavern, 1540 Seventh St., Madison, occurring at 6:50 p.m. Nov. 25.

The owner, Ann Konrad, and her daughter, Doris, were in the tavern when Doris entered to buy candy. The youths returned a second time to buy package liquor and were told by the owner she did not sell liquor.

On a third visit, they entered the tavern where Mrs. Konrad was checking for tips. One displayed a gun, placing it near her face, and demanded all her cash. She handed over $60 from her apron pocket.

He then ordered her to give him her purse, which she said she did not have a purse there, but two others ran from the tavern.

Since then, he has not seen or heard from the driver and the shipment is long overdue, the manager said.

Finding success key to preventing dropouts

"Kids have to find success in school. The more success they find, the more they will like school and—regardless of their home environment—the more likely they are to stay in school," said Donald Melancon.

Principal of Proeger School in Kankakee, and a member of the St. Ann High School District Board of Education, he said that's the "bottom line" when it comes to preventing students from joining the 27,000 youngsters who drop out of Illinois schools each year.

Melancon spoke to school board members and administrators Nov. 23 in Chicago. He was a member of a panel that said that Illinois' public schools can prevent truancy and dropouts—one of more than 60 discussions on a variety of topics of breed at the joint annual conference of the Illinois Association of School Boards, Illinois Association of School Administrators, and Illinois Association of School Business Administrators.

"Public schools are coming to grips with the dropout problem," Melancon said, "by implementing in the spring of 1987."

The study, in which 35 of the 127 dropouts form the district during the past four years were interviewed, identified several factors that seem to contribute to truancy and dropping out of the individual.

Lack of participation in extracurricular activities. Children who aren't doing well in their classes need to experience success in other activities. If they don't they're likely to give up, Melancon said. One solution is to encourage them to take part in a wide range of activities, both athletic and non-athletic. Many at high risk of dropping out don't experience success at home, he said—if they also meet with failure at school, it's a double whammy.

Girls who become pregnant present a double-edged problem for schools. Not only do the girls themselves often drop out, but frequently, schools are less successful, creating a dropout and poverty cycle. Kankakee tries to place pregnant students in a special evening program where, in addition to continuing their academic schooling at home, they receive information about their children and preparing them to be successful in school. Then the district tries to recruit the young mothers back into the regular school system.

A distinctive summer school program helps kindergarten through eighth grade students retain what they learned during the school year, and also incorporates activities to help them build self-esteem. "Sometimes summer school is used as a punishment," said a man like Melancon said. "We view it as an opportunity to keep the cobwebs out—a way not to lose the gains made during the year."

Keeping track of dropouts and potential dropouts needs to be a continuing activity, Melancon said. Committees recommends keeping computer files on students who drop out, so they can be studies at frequent intervals, and also files on potential dropouts.

Monthly print-outs on current students help principals identify students at high risk of dropping out so they can be helped before they leave school, he said.

All the activities are directed toward the goal of giving students a reason to stay in school. "All children run into obstacles in school," said Melancon.

"But if they like school, they will tolerate the obstacles. A molehill can look like a mountain, but students who are finding success in school will climb that mountain. If they aren't finding success, they'll give up."

Study inequities

Lazerson said the task force would decide if inequities exist and suggest ways to address them, including reallocation of internal funds.

The Executive Committee of the Faculty Senate will submit names of faculty members for a group, Lazerson said. He said he expects its work to last at least six months.

Meanwhile, many faculty members remain bitter about raises given to deans above a 6 percent increase granted other university employees.

Raises for the deans ranged from 10 to 18 percent. They are for fiscal 1987, which began July 1.

Highway program is becoming 'shambles'

The Associated General Contractors of America (AGC) said last week that "the nation's highway construction program is becoming a shambles as states begin to postpone needed projects."

The 95th Congress failed to re-enact highway legislation and the highway trust fund, paying for highway improvements daily through user fees at the pump. Citizens are paying increased costs while they idle in traffic, and the U.S. is forcing the postponement of projects for which they are paying."

Just one example of how the lack of highway legislation adversely impacts a state is a tally of 132 projects already postponed in one state, according to the Federal Highway Administration.

Illinois would have received $367 million in new federal-aid highway funds for fiscal 1987 had Congress reauthorized the Federal-Aid Highway Program.

This would have generated 22,000 jobs, the AGC said.

Illinois had $109 million available on Sept. 30 in unused highway funds carried over from previous years. These are the only federal dollars that will be available until reauthorization.

Highway users in this state pay into the Highway Trust Fund $10,900,000 each week.

Of the 36,187 miles of major roads in this state, half (17,934 miles) need rehabilitation.

"Our concern," said Richard E. Hall, president of the 32,500 members of the Associated General Contractors of America, "goes far beyond our own very considerable interests as construction contractors, because highway users are the ultimate consumers of our product. Highway users are being worse than shortchanged. They are paying for something they are not getting."

"The states are also getting a raw deal. They cannot order highways or bridges or repairs on a whim."

"They have to plan, and in this end of tight budgets they cannot just decide without the certain knowledge that the federal Highway Trust Fund will pay back their share of what their state has already paid into the fund."

"The construction industry is also getting a raw deal and it will be worse than ever when it gets paid. Expensive construction equipment can't be paid for while it sits idle."

"Construction workers won't be paid while they are idle. That's our immediate concern."

"Our larger concern is that highway users, the ultimate consumers of our product, will lose faith in our confidence with the government's ability to provide even essential services."

"The public has always been willing to pay for its infrastructure of public facilities. It adopted more than 80 percent of the bond issues put before it on Nov. 4 to the tune of $7.5 billion."

"Highway users are paying over $1 billion a month to the trust fund, money which cannot be spent even though needed highway and bridge construction is proceeding to a high level of the states."

"The 100th Congress has inherited a highway construction program that is becoming a shambles and that needs speedy repair when Congress convenes."

Low budget balance and overrides linked

Gov. James R. Thompson last week said a "temporarily low balance" in the general fund should serve as a reminder to lawmakers to "hold the line on increased spending" in the fiscal year 1987.

"There is ample evidence that FY 87 is a tight budget year," Thompson said. "While some want government to spend more money, we simply cannot afford to satisfy everyone's demands for increased spending."

The general fund has reached a top point and is expected to increase in the coming days, Robert Mandeville, director of the Bureau of the Budget, said.

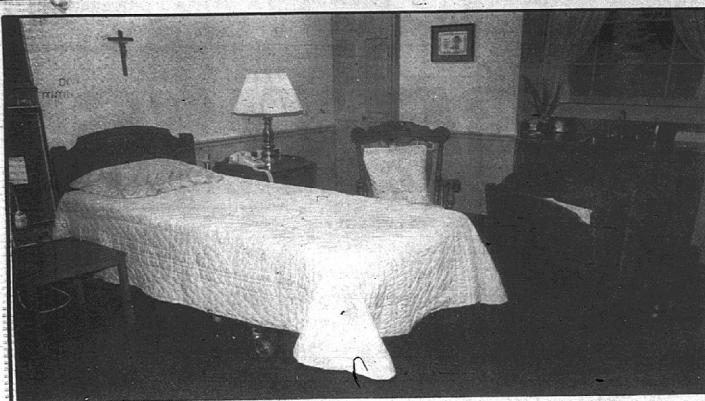

"There is no cause for alarm, but we must be concerned by the inclination of some in the General Assembly to spend more money than is available," Mandeville said.

The previous week, the House approved a budget of $3.6 billion in general fund vetoes by the governor, and the Senate agreed to another $3.8 million in overrides.

As legislators return to Springfield in early December for the lame-duck session, each chamber will review the overrides and make a final decision on the size of the new budget.

"Legislators will have one last opportunity to block that increased spending and keep our budget balanced—and our credit rating intact," Thompson said. "I urge them to act responsibly."

BIRTHING ROOM at St. Elizabeth Medical Center was on public display during an Obstetrics Department open house. "Having your baby delivered in the birthing room is like having your child born right at home. The room is beautiful, with its rich country flavor, and includes a wood rocking chair, cradle, bed, mirror and picture window. Private labor rooms are also available," a spokesman said.

Winter storm tips for motorists in Illinois

Gov. James R. Thompson has proclaimed Nov. 30 through Dec. 6 as "Winter Storm Preparedness Week" to encourage Illinois residents to make preparations against severe winter storms.

"With the holiday season being a period of increased travel and high probability of severe winter weather, it is strongly urged all Illinois residents to take time now and make the necessary preparations to protect themselves from winter storms in their homes, places of business and vehicles," he said.

State officials said winter storms in Illinois can be very dangerous and hardship than tornadoes, rainstorms, hailstorms or any other form of severe weather.

Most costs caused by storms involve delays in transportation, snow removal, repairs of damage to roads and vehicles, increased energy costs due to severe cold.

Motor injuries and deaths occur when unprepared motorists are stranded, Thompson said. He offered the following preparedness guidelines for travel:

• Make sure the car is in good condition.

• Fill the fuel tank before driving, and keep it relatively full.

• Use the primary routes, for they normally are the first to clear of snow, and are patrolled more frequently by law enforcement officials and emergency units.

• Use sensible, do not travel alone.

• If assistance is needed, a Citizen Band (CB) radio can come in very handy. Most radio stations and emergency service agencies monitor CB Channel 9.

• If the storm exceeds your limitations, seek shelter immediately.

• Keep a "survival kit" in your car, consisting of candles, matches, a flashlight with spare batteries, warm gloves or mittens, a stocking cap, medical supplies and food. If you are stranded, this kit could help to keep you alive.

• For people stranded in their cars while traveling, Thompson suggested the following:

• Stay in your vehicle. Disorientation can come quickly in drifting snow, making walking extremely dangerous.

• Avoid overexertion and exposure. Cold weather can bring on heart attacks.

• Keep a downwind window slightly open so you can run your car to heat, do it sparingly to avoid carbon monoxide poisoning. Make sure the car's tailpipe is not blocked with drifting snow.

• Turn on the car's dome light at night to make it more visible to rescue crews.

• Use a candle from your "survival kit" to melt snow for drinking water.

During Winter Storm Preparedness Week the Illinois Emergency Management Agency (IEMA) and Illinois Department of Energy and Natural Resources (ENR) will be offering residents information needed to prepare for Illinois winters.

Anyone may obtain this information by contacting their local or county ENR or by calling ENR's information clearinghouse, toll-free at 1-800-252-8955.

Development group gets contribution

The Shell Companies Foundation, a division of the Shell Oil Co., has contributed $10,000 to the Southwestern Illinois Development Foundation (SIDF), a not-for-profit corporation serving Madison and St. Clair counties.

The contribution will be used to help provide economic research information, and educational materials to promote development in the two counties, said Jack Molloy, president of SIDF.

Molloy also is president of the Leadership Council of Southwestern Illinois, which works cooperatively with SIDF to encourage business investment.

The Shell Foundation also contributed $10,000 to SIDF in 1985 as the first part of a three-year commitment it has made to support SIDF.

William R. Durland, a member of the Leadership Council executive committee and the manufacturing complex manager for Shell Oil's refinery in Wood River, said, "We are grateful for the support of the Southwestern Illinois Development Foundation in 1986."

The Foundation plays an integral role in the region by administering a number of unique programs which had led to a broader understanding of the industrial resources and economic advantages in Southwestern Illinois. The Shell Companies Foundation is proud to support the Southwestern Illinois Development Foundation and its fine work.

John Prait, vice president of SIDF and president of Edwardsville National Bank & Trust Co., said, "We are grateful to the Shell Foundation for its generous support. The $10,000 will enable SIDF to continue working toward the economic progress in St. Clair and Madison counties and help continue to attract development in the region."

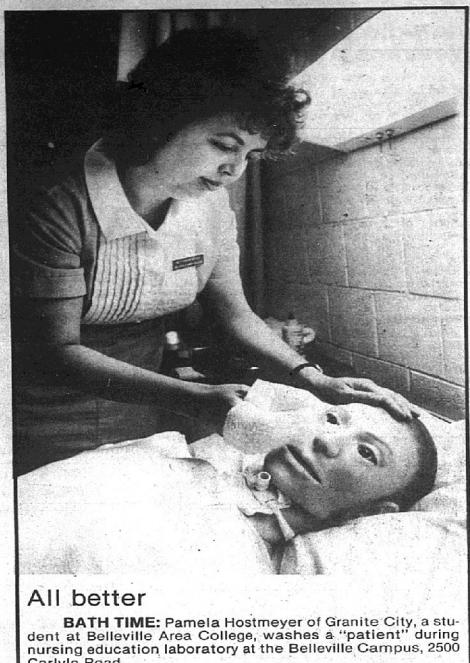

Since it was founded in 1985, SIDF has sponsored a number of special events to enhance education, scientific research, and public discussion to spur economic development in the region.

These activities include sponsoring an international trade conference which explained key aspects of products manufactured for export from the region, and co-sponsoring a two-day Small Business Innovation/Incubator Conference for regional companies.

In addition, SIDF has produced numerous monographs and publications on the economic and cultural assets of the region for distribution to school and business.

The Leadership Council of Southwestern Illinois is a regional economic development group comprised of business, labor, education and civic leaders from Madison and St. Clair counties which works to promote economic progress and development in the two-county area.

Johnson leaving state post

Illinois Revenue Director J. Thomas Johnson has submitted his resignation, effective Feb. 15, 1987. He has served as the state's revenue chief longer than any other director more than six years, since the agency was created in 1943.

Johnson, 39, a certified public accountant, will remain available for part-time assignments in the state after joining the Chicago-based national accounting firm of Grant Thornton as its director of state and local taxes.

He has served in state government since 1976 when he became assistant to the director of the Department of Local Government Affairs. Later he became director of that agency.

In October 1979, he joined the state revenue department as assistant director. In August 1980, he was named to head the agency when then Director James Ziegel became director of law enforcement. Ziegel now heads the Department of State Police.

Johnson has actively represented the state's interests on the national level. He is president of the National Association of Tax Administrators, an alliance of government tax agencies in the U.S. and Canada. He also served as president of the Midwestern States Association of

Tax Administrators.

Tax enforcement has increased substantially while Johnson has been director of revenue. The agency added more than 400 auditors and collection officers and doubled the size of its criminal enforcement staff.

During his tenure, a state tax amnesty was held and tax laws were strengthened to encourage new orders of full restitution in criminal tax cases, and about half the persons convicted of criminal tax offenses spent time in jail.

He has emphasized simplification of tax forms. As a result, a simpler sales tax form was developed and the income tax instructions were rewritten to make them easier to understand.

The Illinois Department of Revenue is the sixth largest state revenue department, with more than 2,250 employees and an operating budget of $108 million. It serves as Illinois' chief tax collection agency, collecting more than $10 billion annually.

In addition, it has property tax oversight functions and administers the Circuit Breaker tax relief program for senior and disabled citizens.

4. The proposed percentage increase in the amended aggregate tax levy is 56%.
5. A public hearing on the proposed amended increase in the tax levy of Community College District No. 522 for the fiscal year July 1, 1986 to June 30, 1987, shall be held on December 17, 1986, at 7:30 p.m. CST, in Room 1410, Belleville Area College, 2500 Carlyle Road, Belleville, Illinois 62221.

Loss by 943 for Congress is contested

Robert Gaffner on Nov. 25 filed for discovery recounts of votes from his Nov. 4 election loss to U.S. Rep. Mel Price.

But Gaffner may have to seek a circuit court ruling to determine the number of precincts that will be counted in at least two of the counties.

A question has developed over the interpretation of the discovery recount legislation. Gaffner said he based the number of precincts included in his discovery recount petition to have 25 percent of the precincts in each county counted.

Election officials in Montgomery and St. Clair counties, however, maintained that the discovery recount could only include 25 percent of the precincts in the first Congressional District.

None of those counties are included in the 21st District.

In St. Clair, Gaffner requested recounts in 42 precincts, including Caneet Township precincts 1-14. County election officials said if Gaffner had used the 21st District precincts in determining the precincts in which he would want recounts, that number would have been 34.

Gaffner said he requested recounts in 11 precincts in Montgomery County.

He said his petitions also requested recounts in 13 East St. Louis precincts (a separate jurisdiction in St. Clair), 55 Madison County precincts, nine Clinton County precincts, and six Bond County precincts.

Gaffner had to wait until the state certified the election results on Nov. 24 to file for the discovery recount. The final vote totals showed Price with 65,722 votes and Gaffner with 64,777.

This 943-vote margin for Price was close to the unofficial victory margin of 1,162.

The discovery recount involves a second count of votes in 25 percent of the precincts in each county.

If these recounts indicate that a full recount might now be a better result for the election, Gaffner said, he will seek a complete recount.

Even if a complete recount showed Gaffner with the most votes, Congress would still have to vote to declare him the winner and award him the 21st District seat before he could be seated. This is because the official canvass showed Price ahead, and only Congress can alter that outcome.

This is the third successive loss by Gaffner to Price, who has won 22 consecutive races for two-year terms, 1944-88.

County GOP told of massive Soviet use of lies, half-truths

The United States and other open societies are the targets of a massive propaganda and "disinformation" campaign by Soviet leaders, according to Tomas Schuman, who said he participated in the effort as an agent of the KGB, the Soviet intelligence agency.

Schuman said his real name he was given when he defected to the West 16 years ago. At the time, he was stationed in New Delhi as a public relations officer. Schuman also taught Oriental languages and Marxist-Leninist theory at the Peking University in Moscow.

Schuman, 47, now lives in Los Angeles, where he is an editor and columnist for a small newspaper. He spoke in Glen Carbon Nov. 20 at a meeting sponsored by the Madison County Republican Central Committee.

Schuman said the U.S. is the best and most generous nation on Earth and should be admired by the rest of the world, "yet they blow up your embassies and they shoot your people."

The Soviet aim, in regard to the U.S. and other free countries is to "isolate them from open to closed societies through disinformation and subversion," according to Schuman. "They want to exploit you in a subtle way, not destroy you," he said. "They don't want to destroy something that feeds them and gives them credibility."

The Soviet aim in regard to the world, "yet they blow up your embassies and they shoot your people."

"Some of your media people at the highest levels are traitors," said Schuman. Some of the most prominent newspapers, magazines and broadcast media help spread the disinformation, he said.

Schuman said the people of the Soviet Union are not enemies of the U.S., but love America and Americans. "It's the Socialist junta in the Kremlin which is your enemy and my enemy," he said.

Schuman said the U.S. is unique among nations in the history of the world in that it has helped its own enemies for many years.

The KGB spent a relatively small amount of money and manpower on espionage because the U.S. government and U.S. businesses willingly give or sell secrets to the Soviets.

Schuman said the U.S. is in no danger of being destroyed by Soviet missiles.

"Where would Comrade Gorbachev get the Caucasus? Where would they get loans?" he said. "They don't want to destroy something that feeds them and gives them credibility."

The Soviet aim in regard to the world, "yet they blow up your embassies and they shoot your people."

"Some of your media people at the highest levels are traitors," said Schuman. Some of the most prominent newspapers, magazines and broadcast media help spread the disinformation, he said.

New director of Veterans Affairs

David Knox is the acting director of the Department of Veterans Affairs, replacing Director David V. Hardwick, who resigned for personal reasons.

In recent years, Dave Hardwick helped make Illinois a national leader in the delivery of important services to veterans, their dependents and survivors," Gov. James Thompson said. "His dedication to making veterans issues a priority in state government has been greatly appreciated."

Hardwick, a Rochester resident and Army veteran, was assistant director of the Department of Personnel from February 1977 to October 1979, when he was named director of the Department of Veterans Affairs.

Knox, 52, of Springfield, has been deputy director since July 1985. For three years prior to that appointment, he was a bureau manager responsible for data processing and budgetary matters in the department.

Knox was an enlisted man in the Marine Corps and served in Korea with the First Marine Division.

Before joining Veterans Affairs, Knox held administrative and executive positions in the state government, including administrative positions in the Department of Personnel, Department of Public Works and Buildings, Department of Children and Family Services, and Department of Public Health.

Knox will continue to be paid his current annual salary of $61,800. A search has begun for a permanent replacement.

Guidelines offered for choosing best credit card

A new pamphlet to teach consumers how to select a credit card and select the right card for their own needs was released recently by Bankcard Holders of America (BHA), a national consumer group with 130,000 members.

BHA developed the pamphlet to help consumers learn how to avoid most misleading and deceptive advertising tactics used by banks to lure unsuspecting credit card consumers.

The pamphlet, titled How to Choose A Credit Card, contains a test for consumers to determine the true cost of credit card fees and finance charges. BHA is the only national consumer group dedicated exclusively to credit card issues.

"We are issuing this new pamphlet to arm consumers with the information they need to wade through the banks' deceptive advertising claims," said BHA Director Elgie Holstein.

The publication is available for $1 — to cover postage and handling — from BHA at 333 Pennsylvania Ave., SE, Washington, D.C.

The pamphlet shows consumers how to:

- Analyze the cost of interest charges and fees (annual fee, late fees, over-the-limit penalties, etc.)
- Use of misleading payment gimmicks to camouflage the true cost of credit to the consumer such as lower minimum monthly payments resulting in higher interest costs; and
- Offers of non-financial membership "perks" focusing on glamour and prestige, to divert attention from the financial terms of the cards.

BHA collected scores of credit card solicitations over the past six months and identified three common, flagrant advertising devices:

- Lack of information on the important financial terms of the credit card.
- Use of misleading payment gimmicks to camouflage the true cost of credit to the consumer such as lower minimum monthly payments resulting in higher interest costs; and
- Offers of non-financial membership "perks" focusing on glamour and prestige, to divert attention from the financial terms of the cards.

The new tax bill phases out the consumer's right to deduct credit card interest payments on their federal tax returns. To help consumers switch to better cards from now until Dec. 31, BHA will also enclose a free copy of its list of low-interest-rate banks across the U.S.

with every pamphlet request, said Holstein.

BHA usually offers the bank list at an additional $1 cost. Through Dec. 31, consumers will receive both the new pamphlet and the list for just $1.

GC, E. St. Louis adoption programs lauded by state

Nearly half a million dollars in federal grants has been awarded to the state's Children and Family Services (DCFS) to strengthen adoption programs on Illinois and to promote interstate cooperation on behalf of adoptable children.

Both Granite City and East St. Louis programs were spotlighted by officials.

DCFS Director Gordon Johnson announced the grants at a Springfield ceremony marking the 10th annual observance of National Adoption Week. Now 23 years old, the program has presented outstanding service awards to four private adoption agencies which have excelled in finding homes for handicapped and other "special needs" children.

"Adoption is a beautiful way to build a family," Johnson said. "Adopted children can give and receive as much love as birth children. To some extent, they even offer greater rewards to their parents. We encourage all persons who are considering adding to their family to consider doing so through adoption."

Several grants were received.

A grant for $100,000 will fund a computer link-up with the National Adoption Exchange, a nationwide listing of adoptable children. The computer system will be used to contact and analyze adoption data and share it between states.

In addition, this grant will fund a pilot program in East St. Louis called Finders/Keepers. This program will use specially trained "master adopters" to provide counseling and support to families who adopt "special needs" children — handicapped youngsters, older youth, groups of brothers and sisters, and children who belong to racial minorities.

Johnson said DCFS has placed 800 special-needs children a year in adoptive homes for each of the past several years. Although this success has reduced the number of adoptable children, said the new grants will help keep adoption in fiscal 1987 at about the same level.

The four adoption agencies which received awards from DCFS are: Lutheran Social Services of Illinois (Peoria and Moline offices); Catholic Charities, Rockford; Catholic Charities Springfield Diocese (Alton and Granite City offices); and Family Services of Decatur.

"Our children have special needs because of birth circumstances or other reasons," Johnson said. "But they also have universal needs — for love, permanency, and a family to call their own. These agencies are recognizing what we met not only the children's special needs but their universal needs as well."

Lutheran Social Services was singled out for its work in the Peoria and Moline areas, where it found adoptive homes for 17 local special-needs children last year — more than twice as many as any other private agency.

Catholic Charities of Rockford was noted for having recruited and prepared adoptive homes for large groups of brothers and sisters.

Catholic Charities of Springfield was recognized for the work its Alton and Granite City offices did in finding homes for severely handicapped and older children. Family Services of Decatur was honored for finding permanent homes for children in those previous adoption attempts that had failed.

"I congratulate and thank each of the agencies for their sensitive, dedicated work," Johnson said. "They have proved that virtually no child is unadoptable."

Persons interested in adoption may call the Adoption Information Centers at 1-800-572-2390. The center is funded by DCFS and provides information and local referrals to people who are considering adoption.

Johnson said DCFS has placed 800 special-needs children a year in adoptive homes for each of the past several years. Although this success

Lock and dam association to remain active

The Association for Improvement of the Mississippi River has voted to continue its defense of the new Alton Locks and Dam 20 against any challenges.

The organization was formed in 1974 to promote replacement of the old Alton locks and dam. The not-for-profit corporation successfully defended the $1 billion construction project against a court challenge and provided counsel on federal legislation.

AIMR still retains a Washington law firm that fended off efforts to halt the project in a battle that carried through the U.S. Supreme Court in the 1970s.

A former St. Louis District Engineer, Col. Guy E. Jester (ret.), U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, who has served as AIMR president since its founding, was re-elected for this term.

AIMR acknowledged that all major phases of the project have been authorized by Congress, with funding provided through next year. He noted, however, that construction will continue for another year, including a second look and said "some environmental organizations" are attempting to delay completion of the project.

State bank account hits all-time low

SPRINGFIELD — The "checking account" for state government was at an all-time low Nov. 24 and the state will have to delay payment on some bills until more revenues come in, State Comptroller Roland Burris reported.

The general revenue fund balance was $813,000. The common school fund had a balance of only 11 cents.

However, a school aid payment of $1 million and a payroll check for state employees have been processed already for this week, said Rick Davis, a spokesman for Burris.

Davis said the state obviously has a cash flow problem which Burris has been warning about for the last few months.

November is a difficult month for cash flow because there are only 16 working days in which revenue is received, while bills are incurred for 20 days, he said.

He said Burris believes Gov. James Thompson should seek legislative authority when the General Assembly returns in December to use more flexibility in making interfund transfers when faced with such a severe cash problem.

- Eliminate interest payments by taking advantage of the "grace period" some banks offer;
- Calculate whether a low interest or no fee card would be better for their financial charging pattern;

Shriners donate funds for children

Alnud Shrine Temple sponsored its second annual paper sale and giveaway project for the benefit of Shriners Hospitals for Crippled Children this fall.

Shriners from throughout Southern Illinois, including the 26 southernmost counties of the state.

The Shriners, equipped with eight-page newspapers telling the story of the free care provided by Shriners Hospitals for Crippled Children, wore their red fezzes and yellow vests as the people of Southern Illinois filled their donation buckets.

Gene T. Morris, chairman of the event, along with Potestate Thomas Barschak, presented the $56,276 to Harold G. Baker, Jr., treasurer of the St. Louis Unit, Shriners Hospitals for Crippled Children. Morris noted that this is more than a 10 percent increase over last year.

DeMolays view clothing styles

Chuck Rumfelt, owner of Schermer's Mens Shop, spoke to approximately 60 DeMolays and their families at Nov. 18 at the Mothers Club's potluck dinner, served at the Masonic Temple.

Rumfelt showed the group the latest styles in young men's clothing and provided information on fabrics, colors, coordination, shirts, sport coats, slacks, trousers and ties. After his presentation, he distributed brochures on "the ABCs of neckties."

Jolene Keel, president of the Mothers Club, welcomed the DeMolays, their families, guests and club members. She announced the club officer installation was set for the Dec. 2 meeting.

Chapter advisor Charles Meyer introduced Jimmie Stuart, executive administrator of Illinois DeMolay South and honorary member of the International Supreme Council; Mary Stuart, administrator of the Illinois State Council of DeMolay Mothers; Ellis Hackney, chairman of the advisory council; and advisor B. Edward Bodnam and H. Gene Payne.

Mr. Keel presented two checks to the master councilor, Terry Cory, for the chapter's use at the 1987 ritual weekend in Springfield, Illinois and the Illinois State Convclave at Macomb in August.

Hackney reported the DeMolays received a letter with a check from the Joplin, Mo., Shrine Club. Chris Brewer and his brother, Joe, were visiting their grandfather, Mr. Roy, last weekend and helped with concessions at the 30th annual Shrine Circus. Their grandfather is a member of the Shrine's antique furniture committee.

Gregory Sipes, captain of the James St. Louis Chapter, gave the invocation. The club's committee for the evening included Joyce Toussaint, chairman, and Marilyn Bodnam, Pat Trigolaroff and Jo Meyer.

After the dinner and program, the DeMolays attended a meeting in the lodge room, with advisers from Cahokia, Columbia and O'Fallon as guests.

Laureate donates funds

A private dining room warmed by a fireplace at Michael's in Highland was the setting last week for the first of several holiday parties to be enjoyed by members of the Laetitia Alpha Gamma Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi. They gathered there for an evening dinner, with President Jane Stevens as hostess.

Chapter members agreed to send a donation to the Major Cancer Fund of Granite City, as urged by the Police Area Chamber of Commerce and Granite City's chief of police, Pat Tsigoloff and Ruth Stoyanoff were named to represent the chapter at the kickoff luncheon of the Salvation Army's Tree of Lights Campaign.

Evelyn Tolliver will deliver the chapter's annual contribution to the Organization to Assist The Handicapped (OATH) in Madison.

Delores Dorch reminded members of their next holiday get-together Nov. 29, a visit to Kiel Auditorium's Exposition Hall for the Festival of Trees celebration. Displays include 150 decorated trees. Funds will aid the Juvenile Center for Autistic Children.

The evening concluded with a candlelight ceremony during which Martha Jean Dyer was honored for having met the requirements to become a Laetitia chapter. Participating were those mentioned and Jean Forrest, Dolores Byrnes and Lora Mae Lombardi.

Representatives spar on MESD matters

Ninety percent of the functions to run that district is administrative," Wolf said.

WOLF SAID he thinks Greathouse has done an "excellent" job as an engineer.

In 1983, Wolf successfully pushed legislation which eliminated a previous requirement that the MESD director be an engineer. The change, which amended the MESD Act of 1973, allowed Greathouse to be the director. Greathouse is not a licensed engineer.

Wolf's bill also allowed the director to be chosen from among Board of Commissioners members.

Greathouse was president of the board at that time and the amendment was needed in order for Greathouse to assume the director's position.

ASKED IF MESD could save engineering consulting costs by hiring an engineer, Wolf said, "If you had save money, I think an engineer, you would have no problem. But it would end up costing more on the administrative end."

"Mr. Greathouse has proved time and again he's an efficient administrator."

Wolf is also proposing to change the system of appointing MESD board members. Younge would like Madison and St. Clair counties to alternate board majorities.

MADISON COUNTY holds a 3-2 edge in appointments to the MESD board, based on property tax assessments. Madison County has a greater tax base, thereby receiving the majority.

"This bill will change the system of appointing board members to correct a longstanding bias against St. Clair County," Wolf said.

"I don't think there is any bias against St. Clair County," Wolf said. "The other county now wants to change the rules."

"THEY EXERCISED their control for 75 years. Now we're going to take control for 75 years."

"After that time, I would consider (appointment changes)," he said.

On the $1.8 million proposal by Younge to repair the damaged floodgate, Wolf said he and Rep. Mark P. Younger of Cookfield had already introduced an $800,000 repair package that has been given "assurances" of passage by other legislators.

WOLF BELIEVES Younge's $1.8 million proposal is too high.

Younge would not oppose Younge's proposal to permit the House of Representatives' Urban Redevelopment Committee, of which she is a member, to subpoena sanitary district records.

But, Wolf said he will seek to add a section to the bill to prohibit a committee from subpoenaing the cap would essentially limit the committee's investigation of MESD to 90 days.

State ready to expand Parents Too Soon

Directors of three state agencies announced plans Monday to expand the state's "Parents Too Soon" program. The three said the program has been successful in reducing teenage pregnancies in Illinois.

John Gordon, director of children and family services, spoke via news conference in Collinsville.

While Gregory L. Coler, director of public aid, and Bernard Turnock, director of public health, spoke at similar conferences in Chicago and Springfield, respectively.

The program "appears to be working and it is working," Johnson said in Collinsville. "We think it has played a significant role" in the drop in the number of children born to teenage mothers, he said.

Although the number of births to Illinois teenagers has declined 18 percent in the last five years, 22,630 Illinois teenagers gave birth in 1985. The decline exceeded the 12.6 percent decline in the population of girls between ages 15 and 19.

Gov. James R. Thompson initiated the program in 1983 to help teens avoid pregnancy, reduce risks associated with adolescent pregnancy, and improve parenting skills of teenage parents.

The program, the first of its kind in the nation, has a $12 million annual budget from state agencies and more than 100 community health and social services agencies participate in the program.

Johnson and the other directors urged media representatives to air a new series of public service announcements and showed a documentary film which will be made available to groups around the state.

The theme of the public awareness program is "Speaking for Ourselves," featuring Illinois teenagers talking about their experiences and problems of early parenthood.

Johnson said he believes hearing teenage parents talk about their experiences will do more to be

"deglamorize" teenage parenthood than anything they might hear from adults.

"We know that PTS and other programs work," Johnson said. "The key is to reach teenagers in time to make a difference," he said.

To obtain information or help, teenagers can contact Parents Too Soon by calling a toll-free confidential "hotline" at 1-800-422-5587.

Reversing high blood pressure

(By Forest Hospital, Des Plaines, Ill.)

Tens of thousands of Americans suffer from the "silent killer" — high blood pressure.

High blood pressure causes an estimated 80 percent of strokes and doubles the chances of being fatally struck by many other diseases.

"Though exercise and diet are often recommended, they are usually supplementing medication as the main treatment.

The latest studies indicate however that diet plays a leading role in the regulation of blood pressure.

ounding more like the title of a spy film, the K-factor actually refers to something we may remember from school. The letter K is the symbol for potassium, and the K-factor is the ratio of potassium to sodium in the body.

Dr. Richard Moore, professor of biophysics at the State University of New York at Albany, is a authority on the K-Factor. In a recent radio interview at Forest Hospital in Des Plaines, Dr. Moore explained how to reverse and prevent high blood pressure without the use of drugs.

According to Dr. Moore, the amount of potassium in the body is not as important as the ratio of potassium to sodium, which is a component of many salts.

Before the widespread practice of boiling foods, most people had a K-factor of 15 to 20. This means the amount of potassium in the body was 15 to 20 times the amount of sodium.

"Because potassium is a food preservative during the last 50 to 80 years, Americans now have an average K-factor of about .5, with most black Americans having a K-factor of less than .4," said Moore.

"The problem," he says, "is that our diet is not the only way we preserve foods. If you boiled all food, it would only take two to three weeks until you became paralyzed and died."

When the amounts of potassium and sodium are out of balance, the body generates electricity inadvertently, causing nerves and muscles to function poorly.

This "mineral" imbalance also disturbs the activities of many cells throughout the body. These malfunctions are the underlying causes of high blood pressure.

Though heredity and stress may be factors in high blood pressure, they are not as influential as once believed.

A genetic tendency to high blood pressure can usually be controlled by an increased K-factor.

The dangers of stress are more likely to be caused by some of its symptoms such as smoking, drinking and overeating, which alter the body's normal chemical balance.

Potassium can also be taken in the form of supplements, but Moore says that is not a solution to the problem simply because I think it's best if we take potassium in its natural state in foods."

Supplements usually contain potassium chloride. Chlorides make elimination of sodium from the body more difficult.

The K-factor and its relationship to diet is so new that most physicians are not yet aware of it. "It's not the doctors' fault they don't know this material," says Moore, "it's taught in medical school yet," says Moore.

"It could be another three or four years before this information is in textbooks.

"Drugs cannot correct an underlying imbalance of minerals in the body. Drugs can only treat the symptoms that talking medication to talk with their physicians before stopping medication. Drugs produce many changes in metabolism and discontinuing them abruptly can cause serious problems."

Though heredity and stress may be factors in high blood pressure, they are not as influential as once believed.

"Treatment for these conditions is very specific and should be carefully monitored. The safest way to good health is working with your physician, not independently of him or her."

Radon in state not major health threat

the extent of the radon problem in Illinois, particularly in the northern part of the state.

The report also recommends establishing new initiatives, such as possible use of the Cancer Registry being compiled by IDPH to target future monitoring activities and studies by the State Geological Survey to determine geological features which may indicate excessive radon levels.

Other recommendations address ways of increasing public awareness of radon and encourage that manufacturers and competitive companies do not take advantage of public concern about radon. The report suggests testing and certifying firms that manufacture radon screening devices or offer to mitigate excessive radon levels.

It also established a toll-free telephone number for Illinois citizens to call for information on radon. The number is 800-225-1245 and health physicists are available to answer questions about radon and provide information including verification of radon screening devices that have demonstrated competence to the federal government.

In the past year, IDNS has started to monitor homes for radon, with results available for more than 500 homes. Eventually, the agency plans to monitor at least 3,500 homes statewide.

Lash said preliminary monitoring efforts indicated that "radon is not the major health threat that it is in some other states."

The primary thrust of the state's initial monitoring activities is to quickly identify any problem areas. Screening studies are being used to determine which neighborhoods may require further study.

"High radon levels recorded on screening devices in a basement only mean that more complete monitoring is necessary to take precise measurements and calculate radiation exposure," Lash said.

He added that simple, inexpensive steps, such as sealing foundation cracks and increasing ventilation, can be effective in reducing radon levels in many cases. The state also is investigating areas identified by U.S. Department of Energy aircraft flying over Illinois using radiation detection instruments, as potential sources of elevated radon emissions.

• Investigating energy-efficient homes with ENR to see if weatherization techniques reduce radon levels.

• Evaluating different types of inexpensive radon detection devices to determine reliability and the best monitoring procedures.

Pryor, Page videos take different trips

Comedian Richard Pryor directed, cowrote, produced and stars in Jo Jo's Fabulous Life (1986), a not-so-sad look at his own strife-torn life.

Pryor plays Jo Jo, a famous comic who's slimmed down his life in a drug-induced explosion. The film is being released this week.

RCA/Columbia. During the creation which follows Jo Jo's descent, the comic's spirit returns back to his youth, his grandmother's house of ill-repute.

We follow his slow-moving, self-reflective and steady maturation as a stepmother. When he reaches the top, pressure gets to him and he slips into drugs. Pryor is at his best when performing his classic stand-up routines, although he offers an interesting alternative view.

The story seems to jump around a bit but Pryor fans will find a lot to enjoy, including Debby Boone, Barbara Mandrell and Billy Eckstine. R language, sexual situations).

Dairy delights for the holidays

Shakespeare once wrote that "music is the food of love." St. Louis District Dairy Council personnel believe that the holiday season is like a melody, wound with phrases that lead to a symphony of fine food for sharing.

Cockaigne

12 eggs, separated
1 cup sugar
½ gallon whole milk
2 pt. cream, whipped

Beat egg yolks slightly, gradually adding sugar until smooth and creamy. Add milk. Beat egg whites until stiff. Fold into milk mixture. Chill several hours.

Beat cream until stiff. Fold in just before serving.

"Cockaigne" is a French word for a legendary land of peace and plenty.

Pumpkin bread

½ cup butter or shortening
½ cup sugar
2 eggs, well beaten
½ cup dairy sour cream or plain yogurt
1 cup canned pumpkin
1 pt. cloves
1 tsp. nutmeg
1½ tsp. cinnamon
½ tsp. salt
1 cup baking soda
1 cup whole wheat flour
1 cup all purpose flour
1 cup chopped nuts

Grease 9-by-5 inch loaf pan. In mixing bowl, beat shortening and sugar until smooth and creamy. Mix in eggs, sour cream and pumpkin.

Sift together cloves, nutmeg, cinnamon, salt, baking soda and flours. Stir into mixture. Add chopped nuts.

Put into loaf pan. Bake at 350° for 45 to 50 minutes.

Serve plain, with butter or cream cheese.

½ tsp. flavor enhancer

Sweet, tart pork

Pork on 'one-dish salad'

Fruit and meat, blended with sweet and savory ingredients, is a tempting flavor combination very common in Asia.

East-West Pork Salad, for instance, is full of harmonious and satisfying flavors—juiciness and tartness from pineapple, a touch of heat from red pepper flakes, sweetened fruit cocktail and crunch from celery, green onion and chow mein noodles. Pork adds a savory touch, rounding out the salad.

The recipe is simple and straightforward, involving a short cooking time for the sliced pork and simple sauce. Plus, to enjoy the salad the use it is ready. It is best served at room temperature.

Pork salad

1 (8 oz.) can pineapple chunks or 1/2 can (20 oz.) pineapple tidbits
1/2 lb. boneless pork loin, sliced
1/2 cup coarsely crushed
1/2 tsp. red pepper flakes
1/2 tsp. ginger
2 tsp. oil
1/2 clove garlic pressed
1/2 cup sweetened coconut juice or coconut cream
1 to 2 tsp. peanut butter
1/2 cup sliced celery, if desired
2 tbsp. sliced green onion
1/2 cup chow mein noodles
Crisp lettuce leaves

Drain pineapple, reserving juice.

Sprinkle pork with salt and pepper, coriander, pepper flakes and ginger. Brown in oil with garlic.

Add reserved juice. Cover. Simmer 10 minutes.

Remove pork. Stir in coconut juice and peanut butter. Simmer 3 to 5 minutes until slightly thickened. Cool.

Mix pork with pineapple, celery and onion. Stir in cooled sauce.

Toss with noodles just before serving. Serve at room temperature over lettuce.

Serves 4.

Microwave dessert

Editor's Note: This week "Over the Waves" premiers to guide microwave oven owners in the process of using those miracle-working appliances in their kitchens.

Sandra Hounson, a home economist who received her degree from the University of Missouri at Columbia, introduces the series. A nutrition specialist for the last six years, Hounson will share authorship of "Over the Waves" with other local teachers and home economists who are ready to cook wonderful meals for Journal readers in the weeks ahead. They welcome responses and questions.

"I didn't know you could do that in a microwave!" This comment is heard often when speaking about making candy and desserts in a microwave.

In a microwave, there always is time to make dessert. A tube cake, for example, takes about 15 minutes in the type of oven compared to 45 minutes in a conventional oven.

Cakes tend to rise higher in a microwave, too. It is best to use a 1/2-cup or larger microwave tube pan for cakes to avoid spills. If the pan is smaller, use no more than half full. Batters can make cupcakes.

When cakes first were tried in microwaves, a recipe had to be adjusted with less water and reduced cooking time to get the texture. Now, cake mix companies have added padding to the mix, so it is an easy—and successful—venture to follow package directions for eggs, water and oil. In order to prevent a tough crust, grease and coat the pan with granulated sugar. Use shortening instead of spray-on cooking spray.

Over the Waves

Almond toffee

1 cup sugar
1/2 cup water
1/2 cup butter or margarine
1 small package sliced or slivered almonds
1/2 (8 oz.) Hershey bar

Grease microwave-safe cookie sheet with butter or margarine. Pour sugar.

In 1 1/2-quart casserole, cook sugar, butter and water on high 8 to 9 minutes, until color of brown sugar, but not stir when cooking. Pour over nuts.

In another bowl, melt chocolate on medium 1 minute. Stir to blend any unmelted chocolate. Spread over toffee. Cool completely until set. Break into pieces.

To keep chocolate firm, store in refrigerator.

Micro meat

One way to darken the surface of microwaved meat is to lay strips of bacon over a meatloaf or roast.

Another way to accomplish this is to place browning agents on meat before cooking. These agents include prepared brown sauce, crushed evaporated milk, crushed dry onion soup or gravy mix, packaged or home-made seasoning mix, seasoned salt, soy sauce or Worcestershire sauce.

To make a browning powder for meat, add 1/2 cup brown sugar, 1/2 cup flour, 1/2 cup water and 1/2 cup melted butter. Mix well. Add 1/2 cup crushed evaporated milk, 1/2 cup crushed dry onion soup, 1/2 cup soy sauce and 1/2 cup Worcestershire sauce.

To make a browning powder for bacon, yield seasoning for 36 to 45 patties, combine 2 table spoons salt, 2 teaspoons flour, 1 teaspoon paprika and 1/4 tea-spoon pepper.

Follow sound eating practices

Mushrooms

16 fresh, medium mushrooms
1 small onion, chopped
3 tbsp. margarine
1 slice bread, torn into small pieces
1/2 cup chicken, cooked and chopped
2 tbsp. table sherry
3/4 tsp. marjoram
1/2 tsp. pepper
1/2 tsp. oregano

Remove and chop stems of mushrooms. Add onion and mushrooms stems in a tablespoon margarine until tender.

Add bread, chicken, sherry, marjoram, pepper and oregano to onion mixture.

Place mushroom caps, round-side up, on baking sheet. Melt remaining margarine. Brush mushroom caps with half the margarine. Broil 2 minutes.

Invert caps. Fill with chicken mixture. Brush with remaining melted margarine. Broil until tender and lightly browned on top.

Serve as meat accompaniment, appetizer or canape. Serving provides 148 calories, 3.8 gm fat, 158 mg sodium and 15 mg cholesterol.

Holiday hospitality will indulge guests in seasonal flavor starts

With the coming of the festive holidays, it's time to dinner parties and friends. The holidays are often associated with overindulgence, but a memorable meal can be easy to prepare and provide a delightful array of flavors as well as a generous helping of vitamins, minerals, protein and fiber.

Besides a delightful buttery flavor, wheat germ contains essential nutrients such as 8 vitamins, iron, protein, vitamin E and some fiber. It contains no sodium, no cholesterol and no preservatives. It can be added to almost any dish. Use it as a recipe ingredient or sprinkle on cereals, salads, ice cream and yogurt.

Begin a dinner party with Warm Spinach Salad, a vivid blend of fresh vegetables in a savory, tarragon-basil dressing. Finish with Chinese Chicken, which features succulent pieces of chicken in a subtly sweet apricot ginger sauce. Stir Fry Rice, with mushrooms and onions, is a perfect accompaniment. Wheat Germ Popovers served piping hot from the oven will draw rave reviews.

Pumpkin Chiffon Pie is a fitting finale to this elegant feast and can be prepared fully a day before the party.

Besides making the pie a day ahead, chop and slice vegetables for the salad, rice and chicken. The chicken can be cut as well as possible and held the ingredients overnight.

About an hour before serving time, prepare the rice and brown the chicken. Set both aside. Next fry rice for the salad. Set aside. Prepare the popovers. While they're baking, complete the Chinese Chicken, using a large skillet.

When the chicken is done, the chicken simmers, complete the Stir Fry Rice. Next, heat the dressing for the salad. Add it to the spinach, garnish and serve. Popovers will be out of the oven just in time to enjoy the rest of this delectable meal.

1/2 hard cooked egg, chopped
1/2 cup wheat germ

Fry bacon in heavy skillet over medium heat until crisp. Drain on paper towel. Cool.

Meanwhile, 1/4 cup bacon drippings. Cool slightly. Add with vinegar, sugar, tarragon and basil to skillet. Cook 2 to 3 minutes.

Pour warm dressing over spinach salad. Toss. Sprinkle with chopped egg, crumbled bacon and wheat germ.

Serve immediately. Makes 8 servings.

Chiffon pumpkin

1/2 cup honey flavored wheat germ
1/2 cup flour
1/2 cup chopped pecans
1/2 cup butter or margarine
1/2 cup brown sugar
1 envelope (1 tbsp.) unflavored gelatin
1/2 tsp. salt

1 tsp. cinnamon
1/2 tsp. nutmeg
1/2 tsp. cloves
3 eggs, separated
1/2 cup milk
1 can (16 oz.) pumpkin

Combine wheat germ, flour and pecans. Cut in butter with pastry blender until mixture looks like coarse meal.

Pat mixture into 9-inch pie plate. Bake at 350° for 5 to 8 minutes. Cool on rack.

Combine brown sugar, gelatin, salt, cinnamon, nutmeg, ginger and cloves in medium saucepan.

Add egg yolks and milk. Mix well. Cook over medium-low heat until mixture comes to boil and thickens slightly, about 8 minutes.

Remove from heat. Stir in pumpkin. Blend well.

Stir mixture until partially set, about 30 minutes. Whisk mixture until smooth.

Beat egg whites until stiff peaks form. Fold pumpkin mixture into egg whites.

Pour into prepared crust. Refrigerate until firm, about 4 hours or overnight.

Serve with whipped cream. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

Mickey adds pinch of ingenuity to Disney Cookbook

The thought of mice in the kitchen is enough to evoke an "Eek!" of horror from any cook. Unless, of course, the mouse happens to be the beloved Mickey Mouse.

Cooking with Mickey Around Our World is a compilation of more than 250 recipes from throughout the Walt Disney World complex at Lake Buena Vista, Fla. The rascally rodent is featured on the front page, white chef's hat perched between two of the most famous round, black ears in the world, as he whips up a delectable concoction.

It is not the cover, but what is between the covers, that makes this cookbook special—the most-requested recipes from Disney World's vacation kingdom. Any one who ever raved about the food at the famed Disney complex—from the Magic Kingdom to Epcot Center to the resort hotels—will be able to prepare the chefs' recipes at home.

The collection was compiled and interpreted for homemakers by noted cookbook author and home economist Marlene Deeds "Marge" Murphy. Working in her West Dennis, Mass., test kitchen, Murphy says she had to "turn 'pounds' and 'ounces' into cups and tablespoons." The exposure to Disney culinary magic unlocked "techniques that were new to me, despite my years of experience," she said.

Some of the requested recipes include using cold water to make yeast breads; dipping fish in seasoned flour and then in egg wash, rather than the reverse; and using sourdough bread for items such as French toast.

The most-often requested recipe, in fact, is for Stuffed French

Mickey Mouse

Toast, a breakfast delight at the Polynesian Village Restaurant in Disney World. Requests for the recipe were received last year alone by the Disney Guest Letters Department and the Tangaroa Terrace and Coal Isle Cafe, where the dish is served.

Executive Chef Johnny Rivers starts out by making a small pocket in a 1/2-inch thick sourdough bread more than an inch thick. He then fills the cavity with finely sliced bananas, dips the bread in a rich batter and deep-fries it.

Stuffed toast

2 or 4 slices sourdough bread, cut into thick
1 banana
1/2 cup sugar
1 tsp. cinnamon
1 egg
1/2 cup milk
1/2 tsp. vanilla
Oil or shortening
Whipped butter, if desired
Maple syrup, if desired

Cut a 2-inch pocket in one side of each bread slice. Cut bananas in half crosswise; then split each piece lengthwise. Remove peel and stuff 2 pieces in each pocket of bread. Spread slices apart; small, cut 1 slice accordingly and stuff 1 piece of banana in each pocket. Set aside.

Mix sugar and cinnamon. Set aside.

Mix egg, milk and vanilla until well blended. Heat about 4 inches of oil in a pan to 350°.

Dip stuffed bread into egg and milk mixture, soaking a few minutes to penetrate into bread.

Fry in oil until lightly browned, turning to brown both sides, about 3 minutes.

Drain on paper towels on cake rack. Serve at once, sprinkled with sugar and cinnamon.

If desired, spread with whipped butter and serve with maple syrup.

Makes 2 servings. Note: If more servings are desired, double only the amount of bread, bananas, egg, milk and vanilla for 4 servings.

Walnut bread

2 pkg. dry yeast
1 cup warm water
5 cups bread flour
1 tbsp. salt
4 tsp. sugar
3/4 cup very finely chopped walnuts
1/2 cup liquid non-fat dry milk
2 tbsp. oil
2 small eggs

Mix yeast with warm water. Let set until dissolved.

In mixing bowl, combine flour, salt, sugar and walnuts. Add milk, oil, eggs and yeast.

On low speed, using bread hook attachment, mix to blend liquid and dry ingredients. When blended, mix on medium speed 15 minutes. If mixer does not have enough power, stop and mix, then knead about 10 minutes.

Cover. Let stand 15 minutes.

Turn dough out on lightly floured board. Cut into 6 equal pieces. With floured hands knead into balls.

Place on baking sheet. Cover and let rise in warm place until double in bulk.

Bake at 375° for 25 to 30 minutes or until golden brown.

Serve hot.

Makes 6 loaves.

Note: Bread freezes well.

GRANITE CITY JOURNAL—December 3, 1986

Allen to alert crime victims about trends

Madison County State's Attorney Dick Allen has announced the formation of a program to issue "Citizen Alert" bulletins.

The program is designed to seek media cooperation in alerting the public when a particular trend develops, he said. Such trends would consist of specific crimes being committed against a common group of persons or in a concentrated geographic area.

"When we detect a crime trend, we will issue the alert to the media and ask that they inform the public so that people may better defend themselves against the crime," Allen said.

"For example, in this, the first alert we have found that some citizens were being victimized by young people posing as 'substitute paper boys,' collecting for the paper and keeping the money. In some cases, the victims had their homes ransacked and money stolen.

"If the general public is armed with the information, they can better guard themselves against becoming victims.

The initial alert is "a warning to area residents with regard to newspaper delivery payments. Several cases have been reported involving youths who identify themselves as substitute paperboys, collecting for the regular paper boy."

"In several instances, the juveniles collected money from the subscribers, and in another case the youths stole a substantial amount of money after being allowed into an elderly victim's home to use the restroom.

"Once inside, one of the subjects ransacked the victim's bedroom while the other distracted her attention to another area of the house.

"The defense against this sort of fraud is to realize that it can and does happen.

"Never allow strangers into your home for any purpose until you verify their reason for being there.

"No reputable business or utility company will call on you to provide you with sufficient identification as to their identity and purpose. An ounce of prevention will go a long way."

Warriors turn turkey; carved up by Rams, 70-45

By Gary King

Correspondent

MT. VERNON — After gimping through the first half of his team's championship game against Granite City Saturday night in the Mt. Vernon Turkey Classic, Ram forward Tom Hayes asked his coach if he could sit down during the halftime intermission.

"I was scared he'd tighten that up again, so I told him not to sit down," Mt. Vernon coach Lee Emery would say later, moments after his squad had picked up the championship trophy. "I made him do laps around the locker room."

And when Hayes finished his halftime jog, he proceeded to run a lap or two around the Warrior defense, racking up 15 of his game-high 25 points in the second half.

But Hayes' sharpshooting, aided by an unusually lax Warrior defense, the Rams went on to rout Granite City 70-45 for the tournament's top honors.

"Offensively, we weren't aggressive at all tonight," Warrior coach Don Deterding said. "We didn't even try to attack their defense."

"And what made matters even worse was they shot well, like we normally do. Hayes was phenomenal and so was their point guard. We just weren't aggressive at all."

As a result, Hayes was forced to make an extra trip on his aching left leg, injured in a spill against Sesser in the Rams' afternoon game. After exchanging a few words, he limped all the way over to the awards table, where he picked up his tournament's MVP trophy.

The award was in order. To Mt. Vernon, Hayes had indeed been the most valuable player. To the Warriors, however, he was the Most Valuable Pain.

Hayes began making his imprint early, when he rattled off the Rams' first six points of the contest within a two-minute span. As a team, Granite City could only muster eight points the entire first quarter.

Mt. Vernon was hot. The War-

Warrior 'Big Guns' share top billing

By Gary King

Correspondent

MT. VERNON — Last year, the basketball Warriors' "big gun" was Timmy Hogan. This year, he may be forced to split the role.

In Granite City's season opener against the Mt. Vernon Turkey Classic, the senior point guard connected on 13 of 19 field goal attempts to lead the Warriors to an 80-54 rout in their first-round contest.

After taking a 24-20 lead midway through the second period, the Warriors blew the game open when they went on a 23-8 run to take a 49-28 lead two minutes into the third quarter.

Their lead was never cut to less than 29 points for the remainder of the game.

Tim Hogan fed all scorers with 33 points, while brother Jamie finished second in the scoring bracket with 20 points. Forward Tom Taylor also finished in double digits with 14 points and seven rebounds.

Center Eric Ryterski collected six points, Greg Lilley came off the bench to score five and Kevin Sanders posted two points.

On Saturday afternoon, Jamie Hogan assumed the role of big gun, as his hot 13 of his 16 shots, 29 points to pace the Warriors to a 73-69 overtime win over Kankakee.

Tom Taylor sent the game into overtime when he took a pass from Hogan and laid it in the basket to knot the score at 65-65 with just 1:10 left. Playing in regulation time, Taylor scored 18 points and pulled down nine rebounds in the win.

Also scoring in double-figures for the Warriors in the contest were Tim Hogan and Mike Wilkinson, who each 10 points each. Eric Ryterski and David Veizer scored four and two points, respectively, to round out the scoring.

They didn't.

What resulted was a nightmare of a fourth quarter, in which the Warriors exhibited a breed of basketball that's become virtually extinct in their town over the past three years.

In the last eight minutes, Mt. Vernon racked up 29 points. Granite City could manage only 11.

The Rams had gone on two straight where they scored eight straight in the third quarter. But behind the continued accurate bombing of Hayes, the Rams kept Granite City at arm's length.

With one quarter left, Granite City trailed 41-34. To win, they would have to attack. And play good defense. And shut down Hayes — somehow.

They didn't.

"If their big men got the ball, we wanted to be off a rebound. We didn't want to be forced to do that."

The two big men of which Emery spoke — forward Tom Taylor and center Eric Ryterski — scored six and four points, respectively.

"Right now we have some glaring deficiencies, but those might be worked out in time," Deterding said. "This game will give us an opportunity to go back and see where we need to go."

"The guys have their tails between their legs right now. But if they're true competitors, they'll come back."

Far out times in Warriorworld

By Gary King

Commentary

MT. VERNON — Hello, basketball fans. The Warriors welcome you back to yet another winter.

Like each of its past three predecessors, this season looks like it's going to be fun...not to mention a little far out.

The red and black hardwood hounds showed they could still win this weekend, as they posted their first two wins of the season in the Mt. Vernon Turkey Classic before bowing to the Mt. Vernon squad, 70-45, in the tournament's championship game.

But probably more significant than the actual outcome of the Turkey Classic was the which the Warriors tools, second inable — was the preview of what lies ahead this season in Warriorworld.

First things first. What's with the shoes, fellas?

It seems the residents of Warriorworld have set their sights on being a little odd again this year. This go 'round, however, they're going to get about four feet worth of attention.

Jamie and Tim Hogan, perpetual instigators of anything in the form of a new trend in Warriorworld, did look sporty in their new, black Reebok high-tops. The shoes are cute, almost fifty-looking.

In fact, with their new boots, one has to wonder what this duo — still not quite recovered from the court-outfit of fossil fuel season — will wear during the winter.

A mix of basketball with GQ, perhaps?

So what's with the new shoes?

"They're shiny," Jamie said, indicating that a new trend in motion in Warriorworld is the forthcoming in Warriorworld.

And while we speak, perhaps we should take a closer look to see who's who here.

Timmy H. averaged 20 points per game last year, while Jamie averaged 15. This year, he's earned his reputation as the sharpshooter of the two, while Jamie took this year to turn heads on the gridiron, where he sticky-fingered the Warriors right into the state playoffs.

For the night, Timmy had 33 points, while Jamie had 20. No surprises there.

However, in Saturday afternoon's contest against Kankakee, Jamie racked up 28 points to Tim's 10. Then in the tourney champion ship game, Jamie outscored his twin 18.

Will the real sharpshooter please rise?

But will the Warriors really need sharpshooters this year? That's the question. Or will they just plain full-court press and steal

Skaters roll in home opener

By Dave Whaley

GRANITE CITY — A little home cooking was all the Granite City hockey team needed to get its offense back on gear.

The Warriors came out flying Monday night, scoring three goals in the first 2:35, then rolled to a 10-2 win over McCluer in a Mid-States Club Hockey Association game at Wilson Park.

The win moved the Warriors' record to 1-1-1 in the season after they had split their first three games on the road.

"It was nice to see all the goals, because we hadn't been shooting well," said Granite City coach Garry Hensel. "And we had three points early in the game."

Todd Hinterser had the hot trick for the Warriors, while Tom Brown and Doug Suess added two goals apiece.

Hensel made some line changes after the Warriors had won only one of their first three games, including a disappointing 4-0 loss to Lindbergh Friday night. One of his moves was to team rugged defenseman Pat Culiberk with Todd Ritchey and Rich Grogan on a forward line.

The Warriors paid off after only 40 seconds of the first period when Culiberk and Grogan combined to set up Ritchey in the slot for the game's opening goal. Suess made it 2-0 less than a minute later as Matt Krekovich set him up with a backhand pass.

It looked like the rout was on at 2:35 when Brown tipped Hinterser's shot from the right

Stars fall to Blue Devils in second half

By Gregg Ochoa

Executive Sports Editor
GRANITE CITY — Kaskaskia College did its best impersonation of Sibyl Monday night, displaying a noticeably split personality.

In the first half, the Blue Devils resembled a sluggish jalopy. But in the second half, the lemon turned into a fine-tuned machine and Kaskaskia rolled past Granite City Campus 76-58 in a junior basketball game.

"We have a mental state on this team," said Kaskaskia coach Dave Kreps. "We either play really well or really bad."

The Blue Devils did both. But once they took the lead, forget it. "We play better with the lead," said Kreps. "We are six of the top seven guys off the bench can handle the ball."

For the Stars (3-3), the loss was frustrating. They led the entire first half and midway through the second, but then fell to Kaskaskia 5-6 run past them.

"It must be the coaching," said a terse-lipped Terry Collins. "We are making a lot of turnovers and there is really no excuse, because the talent is there."

Kaskaskia was also disappointed by his team's performance, he ordered a practice after the game.

Turnovers played a big part in the Stars' fall. Granite City Campus committed 10 in the first half, but still led 27-22 at the intermission.

Then Corey Silas popped in nine points. Silas led the Stars with 20 points.

"They were getting more shots at the basket than we were in the first half," Kreps said.

Granite City held an 18-9 advantage after the first half.

"They crushed the boards well and we seemed to play a bit too tentative," Kreps said.

The Blue Devils cut the deficit to a single point with 14:12 left to play on a dunk by Casey Jackson.

"Jackson is the one returning guard is the only returning starter from last year's team that posted a 31-3 record and placed third in the sectionals.

Kaskaskia then seemed to shift gears. The Blue Devils went on a 14-2 run over the next four minutes and led 46-37 until Kurt Robinson answered with a jumper.

Three Kaskaskia players scored in double figures. Terrence Alexander, Pat Hayes and Mike Jackson all dropped in 10 points.

Ware and Ed Ware of Venice each scored nine points.

Ware, the Blue Devils' first man off the bench, scored six of nine points in the second half.

"Eddie played with a lot more intensity in the second half," said Kreps. "He did the things he has to do."

TCA Tigers announce plans for season

The TCA Tigers have started practice and are back in the Knights of Columbus Hall doing what they do best — playing basketball.

On Dec. 17 at 5:30 p.m. at the Knights of Columbus Hall, the team will be playing a preliminary game against the St. Joe Jammers of St. Louis. They have also been invited to Peoria for the regional tournament Jan. 2-3. The Tigers won the tournament last year.

The team is asking for help for 16 people to make the trip to Peoria. About $600 is needed for rooms and food. For more information, call Kay Hahne at 877-2549.

The Tigers are also holding a bingo game at Colonial Haven Nursing Home the first Saturday of each month. They started the program in October and will be there the rest of the year.

There is no admission to the Special Olympics. $34.90 will do the job. The Tri-Cities Association for the Retarded is looking forward to getting more people involved, and this is the most important way to do it.

Make checks payable to Tri-Cities Association for the Retarded or OATH, 6th and State, Madison, Ill., 62606.

do as a substitute."

Besides Silas, only Perry Jones cracked double figures for the Stars. He had 12 points. Darryl Schilling added 7 for the Stars. Jones, who played most of the second half with four fouls, also blocked two shots.

Kaskaskia built a 40-39 lead and went on a 14-8 streak, padding its lead to 62-47 with a little over three minutes left.

Actually, Granite City was very much in the game until about the 10-minute mark of the first half, but still led 27-22 at the intermission. Then Corey Silas popped in nine points. Silas led the Stars with 20 points.

"They were getting more shots at the basket than we were in the first half," Kreps said.

Granite City held an 18-9 advantage after the first half.

"They crushed the boards well and we seemed to play a bit too tentative," Kreps said.

After that play, Kaskaskia outscored the Stars 12-2 and the rest of the game.

"I let my frustrations fly at the kids during halftime," Kreps said.

"We weren't doing any of the things that had made us successful in the past. I told them we had to come out and start thinking on our feet again," he said.

Collins said it was critical mistakes that was the difference.

"We were in a hurry on offense and not thinking," he said.

Collins seemed to be more disappointed with himself than anything, his eyes cast to the ground. "Our talent took us so far, I guess that's my fault as a coach."

The second half was all Blue Devils. They outscored Granite City 34-16 in the second half with 20 points in the second half.

Granite City Campus has a tough stretch coming up when they play three games in six nights. The Stars play Meramec on the road tonight; host high-flying Forest Park Saturday and play at Three Rivers in Poplar Bluff, Mo., on Monday.

Three Kaskaskia players scored in double figures. Terrence Alexander, Pat Hayes and Mike Jackson all dropped in 10 points.

Ware and Ed Ware of Venice each scored nine points.

Ware, the Blue Devils' first man off the bench, scored six of nine points in the second half.

"Eddie played with a lot more intensity in the second half," said Kreps. "He did the things he has to do."
